Introduction

This book has been written for anyone who is planning to take the TOEIC®, and who wants to practice and develop their vocabulary. A greater command of vocabulary is one of the key factors that will help you raise your TOEIC® score.

You should not go through the exercises in this book mechanically. It is better to choose areas that you are unfamiliar with, or areas that are of specific interest or importance to you.

Each exercise is accompanied by a full answer key at the back of the book. This key also gives you other information about particular vocabulary items (for example, words with similar meanings, alternative words and expressions, etc.) that are not covered in the exercises themselves.

When you are doing the tasks in this book, look at the instructions carefully to make sure you understand what to do, then read through the text / questions first before attempting the exercises. This is a useful 'skimming' technique that you should also use when you are doing the TOEIC® itself.

We recommend that you have a good dictionary with you, and refer to it when necessary. However, always try to do the exercises without a dictionary first, and then use a dictionary to check anything that you are not sure of.

It is very important to keep a record of new words and expressions that you learn, and review these on a regular basis so that they become a part of your 'active' vocabulary. Unless you are taking the TOEIC® Test of Spoken English, the TOEIC® is an exam which tests your language recognition skills rather than your language production skills. However, if you familiarize yourself with the vocabulary in the book by reviewing it and then trying to use it in your written and spoken English on a regular basis, you will be in a better position to recognize it if and when it comes up in the exam.

No vocabulary book can possibly contain all of the words and expressions that you are likely to come across in the TOEIC®, so it is important that you acquire new vocabulary from other sources. Try to read as much as possible from a different variety of authentic reading materials (books, newspapers, journals, magazines, etc.), and familiarize yourself with spoken English by listening to English-language radio stations and watching English-language movies and television programs whenever possible.

Try to get plenty of exam practice before you do the exam itself, so that you become familiar with the format. There are several books, courses and other publications that will help you. Barron's How to prepare for the TOEIC® (ISBN 0 7641 7514 9), which contains lots of helpful advice as well as complete model tests, is particularly useful.

We hope you enjoy doing the exercises in this book and that they help you to practice and develop the vocabulary that you need. Good luck in the TOEIC®!

The box below contains 27 words used to describe change in different situations. These are all verbs, and they can be found by reading from left to right and from right to left, starting in the top-left corner and following the direction of the arrows. Separate these words, then use some of them to complete sentences 1 – 10 below. In some cases you will need to change the form of the verb (for example, by putting it into its past simple or past participle form).

Also see Changes 1 on pages 1 and 2.

Comparing and contrasting

Complete these sentences with the most appropriate word or expression in bold. In one case, all three options are possible.

1. The contrast / compare / comparison in working conditions between our Denver department and our department in Chicago is very noticeable, and employees are now demanding equality in this area.
2. The two companies differentiate / differ / different considerably from each other: one sells to the wholesale market, and one sells directly to retailers.
3. It is often difficult to differentiate / differ / contrast between employees who are off work because they are genuinely ill, and those who are just enjoying a day at home.
4. Our new software program shares some common characters / characterizes / characteristics with those that are already on the market.
5. There's a clear distinguish / distinctive / distinction between starting your own company, and taking over one that already exists.
6. Compared / Compare / Comparing with 15 years ago, home PCs are cheaper, faster and have a much bigger memory.
7. The two products are different in every way: there's absolutely no compare / comparison / contrast between them.
8. Our latest mobile phones similar to / alike / resemble those of our main competitor, except that they have more features and are more reliable.
9. There are several similarities / similarly / similar to between our new photocopier and our old one: these include an advanced color facility and a multi-task option.
10. Serious computer hackers can access your personal files and destroy or alter them. Exactly / In the same way / Just as, they can gain access to your Internet banking facility and steal your money.
11. The quality of our products is excellent. Likewise / Alike / Likeness, the price.
12. The TOEFL® exam covers a variety of general English tasks. In contrast to / Although / By way of contrast, the TOEIC® focuses more on business and professional issues.
13. The company has not performed very well during the last quarter. Nevertheless / Even so / However, it has still managed to turn a profit and retain most of its clients.
14. There currently seems to be a large discrepancy / discrimination / differential between the number of people employed in service industries, and those employed in the primary sector.
15. Our new contract states that both parties must give 6 months' notice of termination, unlike / whereas / whereby our old contract had an immediate 'get-out' clause.

Computers and information technology

Exercise 1:

Read the text below, in which someone is talking about their computer. Unfortunately, they have used rather 'un-technical' language. Replace the words and expressions in bold with something more appropriate from the box.

CD drive	components	CPU (Central Processing Unit)	desktop	DTP (desktop publishing)
flash-drive	hard disk	hard drive	keyboard	laptop	load	memory	monitor
mouse	printer	scanner	software	spreadsheet	USB port	word processing

This is my new (1) computer that sits on top of a table or desk (I've also got a (2) small computer which can be carried or placed on your knees). As you can see, there are six main (3) parts to it. The first is the (4) part of the computer that runs it and controls what it does, and this is the most important bit. It carries the (5) part that stores and controls the flow of information, including the (6) round thing that is used for storing information. Mine has a particularly high (7) capacity for storing information, which means that it's much faster than most. It came with its own (8) computer programs package (including (9) writing, checking and changing texts, (10) calculating in columns of figures, and (11) producing texts and pictures for magazines packages). You can also (12) put in other programs using the (13) sliding tray for carrying round, plastic, information-holding things, or the (14) hole for connecting computer parts to one another (into which you can put a (15) small plastic and metal stick which can hold a lot of information). The other five parts of the computer are the (16) screen that lets you see what your computer is doing, the (17) flat thing with the letters and numbers on it that let you control the computer, the (18) machine that lets you make copies of the documents that you create on your computer, the (19) device for making color copies of photographs and other documents which you can put onto your computer, and last but not least, the (20) device that you hold in your hand and move across your desk to control the cursor.

Exercise 2:

Instructions as above

access	attachment	bookmark	browser	chatrooms	crashing	delete download	email	homepage	Internet	keywords	links	log on	log out
online	pop-up	provider	search engine	spam	upgrade	virus	website

Now, in my opinion, the best thing about modern information technology is the (1) network that links millions of computers from around the world. Once you've got yourself a / an (2) company that allows you (3) entry, and a (4) program that finds information you can start using this. It's especially useful if you want to get information about something, go shopping or (5) transfer information, games, music, etc., onto your own computer. You can even 'talk' to other computer users in (6) special places where you can leave messages and get instant replies. Most companies have their own (7) special computer pages which you can look at. Let me (8) turn the computer on, enter my code and access the computer system, and I'll show you ours. OK, here we go. Oh no, another (9) advertisement that suddenly appears on the computer screen. How annoying. Let me just remove it. That's better.

Now, I can never remember the exact address of our company, so first of all I'll type it into the (10) program that helps you find the information you want. OK, A & C Black Publishing. The computer identifies the (11) most important or main words and then gives me (12) connections to a list of possible sites. This one looks right: www.acblack.com. I'll click on that. Bingo! Here's our (13) front page. You can use this to find the different books that we publish, and if you want you can even buy them (14) through the computer. Hmm, this book looks good: Check Your English Vocabulary for TOEIC®. Now, before I (15) exit this site, I'll just (16) add it to my list of favorites so that I can find it more quickly next time.

Perhaps the most important thing, however, is (17) a special electronic letter-sending facility, which allows you to communicate with people around the world in an instant. Let me quickly check mine. Oh dear, nothing very interesting. Mainly a load of (18) unwanted advertising. I'll just (19) remove it: I don't particularly want to rent a vacation home in Mexico, have my future read by one of America's top astrologers or buy a phone that lets you smell the person you're talking to. There's something here from my sister with a / an (20) document or file that has been sent with it. You have to be careful with these: sometimes they contain a (21) hidden routine placed in the program that destroys or corrupts files. If you open it, it can do all sorts of horrible things to your computer. I had one last week that kept (22) shutting down my computer. I do have a protection package, but it's a bit out of date: I really ought to (23) bring it up to date.

The exercises above contain just a few of the words and expressions related to computers and IT. Many more enter our vocabulary each year. How many others do you know?

Condition and requirement

Rearrange the letters in bold to make words and expressions related to condition and requirement. The first one has been done as an example.

13. Before you accept a job, it is important that you agree with the remst and ioctnsodin set out in the contract.
14. It is a nmreiretque of the company that employees have a medical at least once a year.
15. If you have a query, telephone us at the number above. niifagl ttha, send us an email.
16. We need to involve at least 20 people on this project, ehewotris it can't go ahead.

Confusing words

The sentences below are all missing one word. Four possible answers follow each sentence. Choose the best answer in each case. Note that each set of answers includes some words that are often confused with one another, either because: (a) they are related to the same topic, but have a different meaning; (b) they look similar but have a different meaning; (c) they are English words which have a similar-looking word in another language but which have a different meaning (we call these words false friends).

Different situations

Look at paragraphs 1 – 10, and answer the question that follows each one.

If it is formal, it should begin with a polite salutation. If you don't know the recipient's name, call them Sir or Madam, but if you know their name, always use it (beginning with Mr. for men and Ms. for women). It should be brief, clear and to the point. End with Yours sincerely if you know the recipient's name, or Yours faithfully if you don't. Some people end theirs with Yours truly. Only use Best wishes at the end if it is informal.

■ What is the speaker talking about?

Mr. Jenkins: What's the schedule for today?

Ms. Ranscombe: Well, after everyone has arrived and registered, there will be coffee in the reception area. This will give everyone a chance to meet their fellow delegates and do some networking. This will be followed by a plenary session in the main hall: I believe the speaker will be giving a presentation on new marketing trends. After a break at 11 o'clock there will be different seminars for areas of special interest. The afternoon will consist of a series of workshops, and then there will be an evening reception and dinner for all the participants.

■ Where are Mr. Jenkins and Ms. Ranscombe?

Ms. Akkabar: Hello, Mr. Andrews. What can I do for you today?

Mr. Andrews: I originally just wanted a checkup, but two days ago I lost a filling, and I think one of my crowns is coming loose. I guess that will be expensive to fix.

Ms. Akkabar: Well, it might be, but we have various payment options that might spread the cost. Take a seat and I'll have a look. Hmm. Your gums look a bit sore. How often do you brush and floss?

Mr. Andrews: About five times a day!

■ What is Ms. Akkabar's job?

4.

Our company is committed to helping employees learn more about their jobs and develop their skills, so we run regular sessions to facilitate this. These are usually in the form of seminars and workshops, and cover a wide range of subjects, including leadership skills, problem solving, decision-making, negotiation skills and interpersonal development. Our employees can then revise and practice these skills through our online program which is run on the company intranet.

■ True or false: The speaker thinks that his employees don't work hard enough.

Is that Amanda Mellors? Oh, well, could you put me through then? You can't get through? Oh, her line is engaged. I see. No, I can't hang on, I'm afraid. Could you give me her extension? It's confidential, is it? Well, could you ask her to get back to me later? Hello? HELLO? I don't believe it, I've been cut off.

■ What is the speaker doing?

Each employee has at least one of these a year. Each session lasts about 45 minutes, and we ask them various questions. For example, we ask them if they think the work they are doing meets the correct standards and whether or not they have met the objectives we have set for them. We also like to know if they are happy with the way their career is progressing, if they would like to do something more challenging, and also if they receive sufficient encouragement, praise and motivation from their managers.

■ Rearrange the letters in bold to make words: The speaker is talking about his company's fatfs spapialar program.

My boss is abrasive, bigoted, conceited, confrontational, critical, insensitive, intolerant and obstinate.

■ Does the speaker have a good boss or a bad one?

Ms. Collins: You will be expected to oversee the work of the production department, agree product specifications with sales departments and time schedules with the stock control department, ensure the product is manufactured according to agreed specifications, inspect the quality of the finished product, produce sales reports for the head office, visit and negotiate with suppliers on base material prices and deal with everyday problems as they arise.

Mr. Sheppard: Anything else?

Ms. Collins: Yes. Make my coffee. Two sugars and plenty of cream, please.

■ What is Ms. Collins explaining to Mr. Sheppard?

Ms. Colley: What's your diagnosis? Is it serious?

Mr. Sagala: Oh no. You have a throat infection, but it's fairly minor and nothing to worry about.

Ms. Colley: Can you treat it?

Mr. Sagala: Oh yes, I'll give you a prescription for antibiotics. They should cure it. But make an appointment to come back and see me in a week. It's contagious, so I suggest you take a few days off work. I'll write you a sick note.

■ How does Mr. Sagala make his living?

Mr. Samson: This says we owe them $180, but the order was only for $131.

Ms. Grant: Yes, but that price was exclusive of tax.

Mr. Samson: I know, but even with tax it should only come to $165.

Ms. Grant: That's true. Oh, hang on, look what it says at the bottom. Package and delivery: $15.

Mr. Samson: Oh, right. Well, I guess we had better pay them. Who do we make the remittance payable to?

Ms. Grant: Oh, we don't need to send them anything. The payment will be automatically deducted from our account at the end of the month. Unfortunately, what this doesn't show us is the import duty we will have to pay. I guess we can expect to get a bill from Customs soon.

■ What are Mr. Samson and Ms. Grant looking at?

Look at the situations again, and highlight the key words and expressions that helped you to identify what each one is about.

Terry: The jobs pages in the paper.

Bob: Oh really? Anything interesting?

Terry: Well, there's something here I like the sound of. Modus International, a (1) _____ supplier of auto parts, has a (2) _____ for the (3) _____ of Sales Manager in their Seattle office.

Bob: That sounds like your kind of job. When does it begin?

Terry: Let me see. Er, (4) _____ April 1st, it says here. That's in three weeks' time.

Bob: You'd better get your (5) _____ in, if you're interested. What else does it say about the job?

Terry: It says that the successful (6) _____ should be suitably (7) _____ and should have had extensive (8) _____ in sales management.

Bob: That sounds perfect. You've got a University degree in Business Management, and you've been working in sales for more than five years.

Terry: I guess so. It also says that he or she should be able to work as part of a (9) _____, and should have (10) _____ and the ability to (11) _____ and inspire his or her (12) _____.

Bob: Well, that's great! You've always got on with the people you work with, and everyone is always saying how you're able to encourage people to work harder.

Terry: That's true. It also says that the (13) _____ include liaising with colleagues around the country, training new staff and presenting a full report to the board of directors twice a year.

Bob: It all sounds quite good. What's the company offering in return?

Terry: The (14) _____ they're offering looks very attractive. It includes a (15) _____ of $35000 per annum...

Bob: What does that mean?

Terry: Well, that's the minimum amount of money that you can earn during the year. In addition to that, they're offering 10% (16) _____ on all sales made.

Bob: Well, that's a good (17) _____. The more you work, the more you sell. And the more you sell, the more money you'll make!

Terry: Exactly. There's also a guaranteed annual (18) _____ of $2500, and a (19) _____ of $4000.

Bob: What's that for?

Terry: To pay me for moving to the area, finding an apartment, and so on. Oh, and there are other (20) _____, such as a company car, free medical and dental insurance and free meals in the cafeteria. It also says that there is room to (21) _____, so I might end up with an even better job within the company.

Bob: So what should you do if you're interested in applying for the job?

Terry: It says I should send my (22) _____, together with a (23) _____, to their head office in Los Angeles. If the company is interested, they'll contact me to arrange an (24) _____ at one of their offices nearer home.

Bob: Go for it! I can come and visit you. I've always wanted to see the Pacific Ocean!

Job recruitment

Look at the pairs of words and expressions in bold in this article, and decide which one is best in each situation. In several cases, both words are correct.

Part 1

When a company has a (1) vacancy / vacant for a job, and it needs to (2) hire / recruit a new member of (3) crew / staff, it usually (4) publicizes / advertises the (5) post / position. It does this (6) internally / internationally (for example, in the company magazine or on a company notice board, so that the job is only open to people already working for the company), or (7) extensively / externally in the 'situations vacant' section of a newspaper. It might also use a recruitment (8) agency / agenda, which helps people to find (9) job / work.

A job advertisement has to give an accurate (10) describing / description of the job and what the company needs and expects from the (11) applicant / application (the person who is (12) applying / appalling for the job). These (13) requirements / requisitions might include (14) qualifications / qualities (academic, vocational or professional), (15) experience / experiences in similar lines of work, and personal (16) qualifications / qualities (for example, it might say that you need to be (17) practicing / practical, (18) professional / professorial and have a sense of humor).

Most advertisements specify the (19) rewards / remuneration that the company can offer in return for your work (including the basic annual (20) wage / salary, any commission you could receive, regular pay (21) rises / increments, and so on). Some advertisements will also tell you about other (22) benefits / beneficial (including paid annual (23) leave / vacations, free medical care, a company car, free meals in the cafeteria, etc.) that you might receive. If the (24) packet / package they are offering is very generous and attractive, and is (25) commensurate / commendable with the work that is necessary, the company can expect a lot of people to apply for the job.

If somebody is interested in the job, they are usually asked to send to send their (1) resume / résumé with a (2) cover / covering letter. Alternatively, they might be asked to (3) fill in / fill out an (4) application / applicant form and (5) submit / send it to the company. The managers of the company will read these and then make a (6) short-list / small-list of the people it wants to (7) attend / attempt an interview. At the same time, it will (8) reject / turn down those who it feels are (9) unsuitable / unthinkable.

During and after the interviews, the managers will consider the different aspects of the (10) candidates / applicants to decide whether they have the correct (11) potency / potential for the job. These might include physical (12) apparition / appearance (are they smart and well-presented?), general (13) disposition / disposal (for example, are they friendly and easy to work with?), special (14) skills / abilities (for example, are they computer literate, can they drive, or do they speak any other languages?) and (15) interests / hobbies (what do they like doing in their free time?). They might also consider their family (16) backing / background (are they married, do they have children?) and (17) medicine / medical history. The person who most closely (18) suits / matches the (19) profile / criteria decided by the managers will then be accepted for the job.

Before somebody is (20) offered / suggested the job, s/he is asked to provide (21) referees / references from people who know him / her (usually a former (22) employer / employee, a (23) colleague / co-worker, and / or a close friend). Before s/he actually starts working, s/he may go through an (24) induction / introduction program to learn more about the company and the job. Sometimes, s/he may be given a (25) temporary / temporal contract and obliged to complete a (26) trial / probationary period (where his / her employers make sure that s/he is suitable for the job) before being offered something that is more (27) permanence / permanent (a fixed-term or open-ended contract, for example). After s/he has been with the company for a while, there will probably be an (28) appraisal / appreciable, to assess how s/he is getting on. These may be repeated on a regular basis throughout his / her time with the company.

Opposites 2: Adjective prefixes

A lot of adjectives can be made into their opposite form by adding a prefix (un-, in-, dis-, il-, etc.) to the beginning of the word.

Task 1: Decide which of the prefixes from the first box can be used to make opposites of the words in the second box.

dis-	il-	im-	in-	ir-	un-
------	-----	-----	-----	-----	-----

acceptable	accurate	adequate	advantaged	agreeable	attractive authorized	avoidable	believable	certain	comfortable	competent
complete	conscious	contented	convincing	correct	curable
even	fair	fashionable	honest	inclined	legal literate	logical	married	mature	moral	mortal organized	patient	perfect	personal	possible	proper pure	qualified	rational	regular	relevant	replaceable
resolute	responsible	satisfactory	satisfied	sufficient	welcome

Task 2: Without looking at your answers to Task 1, look at the following sentences and paragraphs. In each one there is one word which has been given the wrong prefix. Decide which word is wrong and correct it.

1. He is a very (A) disagreeable man and he makes visitors feel very (B) unwelcome, but the management think he's (C) irreplaceable and are (D) uninclined to fire him.
2. Insider dealing is not only (A) immoral and (B) inhonest, but also (C) illegal: companies are legally bound to take the strongest possible action against such (D) unacceptable behavior by their employees.
3. It is an (A) unavoidable fact, but in a competitive job market, those who are (B) unqualified or who have (C) imsufficient work experience will find themselves seriously (D) disadvantaged.
4. She was described by her boss as being (A) unresponsible, (B) incompetent and (C) immature, which she considered extremely (D) unfair.
5. In return for an increased investment, the company offered (A) unlimited returns for their investors. While many found such an offer (B) irresistible, some thought the promises were (C) innconvincing and were (D) uncomfortable about parting with so much money.
6. He had clearly given his presentation (A) disadequate preparation, and many in the audience challenged the points he made, saying they were (B) inaccurate and (C) illogical. Despite this, he remained (D) irresolute in his views, although the only person he managed to convince was himself.

Opposites 3: verb prefixes

Some verbs can be made into their opposite form, or otherwise modified, by the addition of the prefixes dis-, im-, mis- or un-.

Complete each of the sentences below with one of the prefixes above and the most appropriate verb from the box. In most cases, you will also need to change the end of the verb (by adding -s, -ed, -ing, etc., and in some cases by also removing a letter). Use your answers to complete the crossword on the next page.

Starting and stopping

The box below contains 37 words and phrasal verbs related to starting or stopping something. You will find these by reading horizontally left to right (⇒) and vertically down (⇓) only. Try to find as many of these as possible, then use them to complete sentences 1 – 24. In many cases, these sentences can be completed with more than one of the words / expressions. In the case of the verbs, you will need to change the form of some of them (for example, by adding -ed to the end).

Note that in the case of phrasal verbs, the verb and the particle can be found directly next to each other (for example, take off will appear in the box as TAKEOFF).

Exercise 1:

Read this extract from a magazine article about travel, and choose the correct words or expressions in bold. Some of the words / expressions are wrong, some have the wrong form, and some have been spelt incorrectly. Note that in some cases, both answers are possible.

More people are traveling (1) abroad / aboard in the 21st century than ever before. Going away for a week or two's (2) vacating / vacation has never been easier, and the age of (3) mass / massive tourism has truly arrived! If you prefer the comforts of home and have never been away before, here's how it works.

If you enjoy the convenience of a (4) packing / package tour (where you pay for your flights, (5) transfers / transits to and from the airport, and (6) acommodations / acomodations / accommodations in advance), you simply go to the travel (7) operator / agency, pick up a (8) brochure / catalog or two, find a (9) destiny / destination and (10) itinerary / itinerant that suits you, and (11) reserve / book it. You then (12) pay a deposit / make a down payment, and pay the (13) remainder / balance closer to your travel date. Just before you (14) leave / depart, your tickets arrive and then you're away.

If you are an (15) independence / independent traveler who prefers more freedom and (16) flexibleness / flexibility, log on to the Internet, find a website that sells cheap flights, choose your (17) departure / departing date and return date, then pay the (18) airfee / airfare. You will then automatically have an (19) a-ticket / e-ticket logged with the airline. If you choose a hotel at the same time, your chosen hotel will automatically be informed of your (20) booking / reservation. You should also receive (21) consternation / confirmation of everything by email. Closer to the date of your (22) trip / excursion, some airlines will even let you (23) check in / check-in online, to save you from waiting in line for ages at the airport (24) terminus / terminal. (25) Ticketless / Ticketfree travel has eliminated the need for piles of unnecessary paperwork. It's all so easy!

Or is it? Here are just a few things that you ought to consider (and remember, this all has to be done before you even get to the airport!).

First of all, you will need to check your passport: have you got one, for a start, and is it still (26) validated / valid? Most countries will not let you in if your passport (27) runs out / expires within six months. Secondly, what about a (28) visa / visor? More and more countries require you to have one, and this will cost you money (and time and effort, too: in some cases, you have to present yourself in person at the country's (29) emmbassy / embassy). Thirdly, you will need to get (30) traveler's checks / traveling checks and / or foreign (31) currency / currency: if you choose the latter, you need to check the (32) exchange / changing rate to make sure you are getting a favorable (33) deal / bargain, and then in most cases you will need to pay (34) comission / commission / commision to the bank who supplies it. Finally, have you got adequate (35) insurence / insurance / insureance cover, are your (36) vaccinations / vaccinnations / vacinations up to date, will your mobile phone work abroad, and have you made (37) arrangments / arangements / arrangements for someone to look after your cat and dog, and water your plants, while you are away? (continued on page...)

Word forms 1: nouns from verbs

Exercise 1:

The verbs in the top box can all be made into nouns by removing and / or adding letters. Decide on the noun form of each verb, and then write it (in its noun form) in the appropriate section of the table, depending on the changes that are made to it. There are five words for each section of the table, and there are 10 words that do not fit into any section of the table.

consume negotiate provide expose choose supervise qualify admire persuade fail sign argue permit refuse apply solve emphasize subscribe disturb scrutinize attend justify expect identify require coincide criticize recognize warn survive acquire assure intervene abolish arrive manage expand lose recommend maintain determine rehearse respond suggest prohibit consult decide notify relax produce prefer imply behave compete promote

Remove 2 letters, then add 4 letters:	(Example: conclude → conclude → conclusion)
Remove 1 letter, then add 7 letters:	(Example: verify → verify → verification)
Remove 1 letter, then add 5 letters:	(Example: examine → examine → examination)
Remove 1 letter, then add 4 letters:	(Example: reduce → reduce → reduction)
Remove 1 letter, then add 3 letters:	(Example: concentrate → concentrate → concentration)
Remove 1 letter, then add 2 letters:	(Example: disperse → disperse → dispersal)
Add 3 letters:	(Example: depart → departure)

Add 4 letters:	(Example: improve → improv e ment)
Add 5 letters:	(Example: confirm → confirm a tion)

Exercise 2:

Now take the verbs from the box that did not fit into any of the sections above, change them into nouns and write them in the grid below (in the same order that they appear in the box). If you do this correctly, you will reveal a word in the shaded vertical strip that can be a verb and a noun without changing its form.

Now try using some of the words from this exercise in sentences of your own.

Word forms 2: nouns from adjectives

Exercise 1:

Look at these sentences and decide if the words in bold are the correct noun form of the adjectives which you will find at the end of each sentence. Correct those which are wrong. Look at the meaning of the whole sentence before you make any changes, and don't forget to check the spelling.

Workplace problems

In the following sentences and paragraphs, one of the words in each of the word pairs in bold is wrong and one is right. Identify the most appropriate word in each case. You will find this easier to do if you read each paragraph through first so that you have a better idea of what it is about. (Note that the wrong words are real English words, but do not fit into the context of the sentence / paragraph.)

Paragraph (A)

If there is a (1) despite / dispute between the management and the union in a company which cannot be (2) restored / resolved, and as a result a (3) strike / stroke looks likely, a third party might be called in to (4) abdicate / arbitrate.

Paragraph (B)

Money matters 1 (page 31)

Exercise 1:

1. If you lend money, you let someone use your money for a certain period of time. If you borrow money, you take someone's money for a short time (usually paying interest – see number 19) and then repay it. (Note that you lend money to someone, and you borrow money from someone).
2. Inflation is a state of economy where prices and wages increase (= go up). Deflation is a reduction of economic activity.
3. A discount is the percentage by which a full price is reduced in a shop (if the reduction is very big, we can say that it is a bargain). A refund is money paid when, for example, returning something to a shop (you will normally need to show a receipt when getting a refund – see number 8). Note that refund can also be a verb: to refund money.
4. Income is the money you receive (your wage or salary is part of your income). Expenditure is money you spend. Most people would like their income to be greater than their expenditure.
5. If a company is insolvent, it has lost all its money. If a company is bankrupt, it has lost all its money, it has also borrowed a lot, and it cannot pay back its debts (= money it owes). Being bankrupt is a very serious financial situation for a company to be in. (Note that a company goes bankrupt, or is declared bankrupt in a court of law. Bankrupt can also be a verb: the current economic situation has bankrupted us)
6. A bank statement is a detailed written document from a bank showing how much money has gone into and come out of a bank account. A balance is the amount of money you have in your bank account.
7. If your bank account is in the red, your expenditure has been greater than your income (see number 4), and so you have less than $0 in your bank account. If your account is in the black, you have more than $0 in your bank account.
8. An invoice is a note, or bill, sent to you to ask for payment for goods or services (it can also be a verb: to invoice someone for something). A receipt is a note (from a shop, for example) which shows how much you have paid for something.
9. When you make a profit, you gain money from selling something which is more than the money you paid for it. When you make a loss, you have spent money which you have not gotten back.
10. Gross profit is the profit you make before money is taken away to cover costs of production, labor, tax, etc. Net profit is the money you are left with after costs, taxes, etc., have been taken away (money which is taken away is called a deduction).
11. If you have been undercharged, you have paid less than you should have for goods or services. If you have been overcharged, you have paid too much.
12. Something which is overpriced is too expensive. Something which is exorbitant costs much more than its true value (we can also use the more informal word extortionate).
13. If you save money, you keep it so that you can use it later. If you invest money, you put it into property, stocks, etc., so that it will increase in value (the noun is investment).
14. A wage and a salary are both money you receive for doing a job, but a wage is usually paid daily or weekly and a salary is usually paid monthly.
15. Extravagant describes someone who spends a lot of money. Economical (= frugal) describes someone who is careful with money.

amount of money you withdraw from your bank, which is more than there is your account. It is usually done without making an arrangement with the bank (although many banks offer their customers automatic overdraft facilities).

18. A share is one of the many equal parts into which a company's capital (= money that is invested in the company) is divided. People who buy them are called shareholders. A stock is an investment in a company represented by shares. (Note that in the United Kingdom, stocks are shares which are issued by the government).

19. Commission is the percentage of sales value given to a sales person in a company. Interest is the percentage that is paid to someone for lending money.

20. A worthless (= valueless) object is something which has no value. A priceless object is an extremely valuable object.

21. When you credit an account, you put money into it. When you debit an account, you take money out of it.

22. A pension is the money that someone continues to receive after they have retired from a job. Redundancy pay is the money that is given to someone to compensate them for losing their job when a company makes them redundant (= no longer needed). (Note that if you lose your job and cannot find another one, you can receive welfare (= money from the government)).

23. A dividend is part of a company's profits shared out among shareholders (see number 18). A royalty is money paid to the author of a book, an actor, a rock star, etc., as a percentage of sales (it is usually plural: Royalties are paid twice each year).

24. Tax is money taken by the government from incomes, sales, etc., to pay for government services. Duty is a special tax that has to be paid for bringing goods into a country (it is often called import duty).

25. If you deposit money in an account, you put money into the account. If you withdraw money, you take it out of your account.

26. A bill is a piece of paper showing the amount of money that you have to pay for goods or services (for example, an electricity bill). A check is a bill that you receive in a restaurant.

Note that using a word with a similar meaning to another word does not always mean using that word in exactly the same way structurally or lexically. For example: you can 'prevent a strike from taking place' or you can 'avert a strike' (not 'avert a strike from taking place'); you can 'suggest something without saying it directly' or you can 'imply something' (not 'imply something without saying it directly'). In these examples, the words at the end are not necessary because their meaning is carried in the main verb. This is one reason why you should always record words in context, and with an example that shows how they are used, so that when you use them yourself, you use them correctly.
